

Local care provider takes home six awards in one month

Team members of local care provider, Home Care Preferred, were thrilled with the results on Wednesday 3rd December 15th 2014 when they attended Enterprise Enfield Business Awards at The Royal Chase Hotel. The company won the award for Best Retailer and were presented with the award and £1,000 prize money.

Just weeks earlier Home Care Preferred attended The Great British Care Awards, at the prestigious Connaught Rooms in central London. The awards recognise and demonstrate the commitment of care employers to develop a high calibre workforce and the dedication of care staff to providing quality care.

The Great British Care Awards value some of the best people in the care profession and Home Care Preferred, a care agency and independent living care shop based in Winchmore Hill were delighted to be among these people. In addition to a first place the company were also runners up in: The care innovator award; The Care Employer Award; The Care Manager Award; The Dementia in Care Award.

Special recognition went to caregiver Chalinee Seebnauth who was overwhelmed to be the winner of The Care Newcomer Award. "I am speechless and feel honoured to have won this award. I would like to thank the management team at Home Care Preferred for nominating me and everyone that made this possible".

Raksha Patel, Community Relations Manager at Home Care Preferred, said "They were both great nights, the Home Care Preferred team are very proud of the fantastic results. There is so much negative news coverage within the care sector and it was refreshing to be part of two evenings that celebrated positive commerce and all that is good in care".
